

Elgin's Churches

In 1910, Elgin had four churches; three of them are captured in this photo from the era. Presbyterian, Baptist and Methodist congregations are represented (from left to right). The Anglican Church is shown in the top left inset.

St. John's Anglican Church was dedicated in 1904.

Elgin Baptist Church was erected on the southwest corner of Peterborough and 4th Street in 1910.

The Elgin Presbyterian Church was dedicated on Sept. 30, 1900.

As of 2020, Elgin United Church (Methodist) is the only church in Elgin. It was built in 1906.

Elgin's Churches

In 1910, Elgin had four churches; three of them are captured in this photo from the era. Presbyterian, Baptist and Methodist congregations are represented (from left to right). The Anglican Church is shown in the top left inset.

St. John's Anglican Church was dedicated in 1904.

Elgin Baptist Church was erected on the southwest corner of Peterborough and 4th Street in 1910.

The Elgin Presbyterian Church was dedicated on Sept. 30, 1900.

As of 2020, Elgin United Church (Methodist) is the only church in Elgin. It was built in 1906.

Elgin's Churches

In 1910, Elgin had four churches; three of them are captured in this photo from the era. Presbyterian, Baptist and Methodist congregations are represented (from left to right). The Anglican Church is shown in the top left inset.

St. John's Anglican Church was dedicated in 1904.

Elgin Baptist Church was erected on the southwest corner of Peterborough and 4th Street in 1910.

The Elgin Presbyterian Church was dedicated on Sept. 30, 1900.

As of 2020, Elgin United Church (Methodist) is the only church in Elgin. It was built in 1906.

Elgin's Churches

In 1910, Elgin had four churches; three of them are captured in this photo from the era. Presbyterian, Baptist and Methodist congregations are represented (from left to right). The Anglican Church is shown in the top left inset.

St. John's Anglican Church was dedicated in 1904.

Elgin Baptist Church was erected on the southwest corner of Peterborough and 4th Street in 1910.

The Elgin Presbyterian Church was dedicated on Sept. 30, 1900.

As of 2020, Elgin United Church (Methodist) is the only church in Elgin. It was built in 1906.